Introducing www.colleencrawford.info

Well, I am finally moving into this century. I have designed a website about me and my ministry. I invite you to check it out!

God is pouring out His Spirit in amazing ways!

On April 9th a man named Lou Engle gathered close to 100,000 people together in Los Angeles for a day of prayer. The event was called Azusa Now and was on the 110th anniversary of the Azusa street revival.

It was a call for another great awakening in the U.S. and in the nations. I wasn't able to attend, but I watched a lot of it online. It was such an incredibly powerful time. One of amazing things that happened during this event was that YWAM was given time to do a call to missions! Many people cried out to God that they were willing to go. Please join us in prayer that people would follow up on that commitment and that we would see thousands of new missionaries sent out thought this event. Above you can see a picture of people responding to that call by holding up their shoes. People had been challenged if they were willing to go to remove their shoes and hold them up to God telling Him that they are willing to go to the nations.

If you haven't seen it already I encourage you to take the time to watch this incredible recording. It is a day that will mark history! Here is the link. The whole day is powerful, but it begins to transition into the call to missions around 9:36:30 and that goes until about 10:51:00.

"I am ready to know this person."

We had a team in L.A. for a couple of weeks before Azusa Now doing outreach around the city. Below is one of the amazing life-altering stories from this team and their time in L.A.

"One day in LA, we walked by an old man sitting by himself at the edge of a lake, enjoying the beautiful view of the park and the birds flying around. We started talking to him about his family and his story. He said he was waiting by the water to find peace, so I sat down beside him and agreed that the beauty of nature made me feel happy and refreshed. Then I started talking to him about times in my life when nothing in the world could fix the brokenness and hopelessness I was experiencing. I shared about how much hope Christ gave me, and how much He loved me as a Father. He longs to have a relationship with me. The old man broke down and, through his tears, he murmured that he was ready to know this person. We led him in a prayer to give his life to God and prayed for the Holy Spirit to fill him up. He said he could feel something happening inside. After arranging a time the following week to meet up and talk with him again, we invited him to a Christian concert that would be playing in the park. God can use our stories to bring hope and life and did just that for Hugo!" - Josh

What's Up With Me?

The last couple of months have been marked by God's faithfulness. There are several things I have been praying about for some time that I have seen God answer in the last couple of months. I have been studying about God's faithfulness to us. He wants to bless us abundantly; beyond what we can imagine. He spoke to me about how I can often limit his ability to bless me. I ask for something but hold out a cup for him to fill, when he wanted to pour out a swimming pool's worth over me. It is my lack of faith that keeps me from "catching" all the blessing he is pouring out. If all I am holding up is a cup, I will only catch a cup's worth regardless of how much He pours out. So the last couple of months I have been approaching Him with a change of attitude and much more faith. Let me tell you, I have been seeing the larger abundant blessings! He is so good, loving and He longs to bless us. So make sure you are not limiting His ability to bless you!
